Part II, Line 5:

The conservation agreements and related documents state that Casey Trees maintains the following rights with regard to monitoring and enforcement policies:

1. A perpetual easement and right to preserve and protect the conservation values of the property;
2. A perpetual easement and right to enter upon and inspect the property at reasonable times, and upon prior reasonable notice in order to monitor the landowner's compliance with and otherwise enforce the terms of the easement; provided, however, in cases where holder determines that immediate entry is reasonably necessary to prevent, terminate or mitigate a violation or suspected violation of this conservation easement, such entry may be without prior notice to land owner.
3. A perpetual easement and right to prevent (including the right to see injunctive relief) for any activity on or use of the property that is inconsistent with terms of the conservation easement and the purpose, and to require restoration of such areas or features of the property that may be damaged by any inconsistent activity or use; and
4. A perpetual easement and right to display on the property, at its discretion such signs as it may customarily use to identify lands under conservation easement, the terms of the conservation easement or the conservation values being protected.

If Casey Trees determines that the landowner, or third parties under landowner's authority or control or acting with landowner's knowledge, is in violation of the terms of the conservation easement, Casey Trees will give written notice to landowner of such violations and demand corrective action. If landowner fails to cure the violation within 30 days after receipt of notice, Casey Trees may bring action at law or in equity in a court of competent jurisdiction to enforce terms of the conservation easement.

Part II, line 9:

The Organization is a holder and administrator of five conservation easements in various locations in Washington, D.C. The purpose of the conservation easements is to preserve and protect the environment of the properties and permanently maintain the open-space value and character of the associated property. The conservation easements held by the Organization were all obtained via gift deed from the property owner of record at the time of donation.

Since these easements have no marketable value, the Organization assigned a nominal value of $1 per easement and included them in other assets in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position. The conservation easements totaled $5 at year end.

Part V, line 4:

Casey Trees' endowment is used to fund operations.

Part X, Line 2:

Management has evaluated the Organization's tax positions and concluded that the Organization had no significant uncertain tax positions at June 30, 2025 and 2024.
